Hey everyone!

We've all been super busy and therefore it's been a while since our last release. But we bring you a big surprise this time around...

Before we start, I'd like to discuss another thing that I deem important:

It's nice that people have been reaching out to us about donating some of their new year's money as a way to say thank you. However while the gesture is greatly appreciated, we don't take any donations right now.
We operate solely with mangas I bought myself and when/if we do decide to pick up ones I don't have, we'll ask for a funding only for that project.
We don't do this for a profit and don't think it's a good idea to collect money from people if we cannot guarantee that their money will be spent on the manga they want to read. That's why we would only collect as much as we need to buy one copy of a specific manga and never more. At least that's our policy right now when we have a limited amount of people working on our group and thus can only work on so many projects at a time.
If I may make a suggestion: Support your favorite mangakas by buying their mangas instead. On each of our projects' pages I have written down where to buy Japanese mangas (if they are not available in your language) either as a book version or ebook version. While I, too, cannot buy all the mangas I would like, I try to buy at least one of a series that I love. So if you love Akaiito for example, please consider buying one copy. That'd be the greatest joy we could ask for. Our scanlation work is done by fans for fans, so we'd love to see you support the creators of those wonderful books. Remember that while we don't ask for any money, the authors and artists of our beloved mangas do need to be paid. They need to put food on the table and buy clothes just like you do. So the next time you have a bit of spare money, please consider buying a manga. While lots of you are students indeed, you still have enough spare money to buy a hot chocolate or gummy bears occasionally with your pocket money. It's only fair to ask that you sometimes cut back on those and buy at least one manga. I'm not saying "Buy them all!" but I ask you to be fair towards the creators of the mangas you love. If you love the mangas, it's only logical that you give back a bit.

If you want to support the scanlation scene instead of destroying it, please use batoto as an online-reader (it's possible with manga reading apps too :P ) and consider buying a manga or two, if you can afford it.

I hope you had pleasant holidays and I wish you all the best for 2017! Thank you again for your support.
You can look forward to some great releases by us this year! .)

I CHOOSE TO WRITE "A THOUSAND MILES" HERE, BECAUSE THE ORIGINAL JAPANESE TRANSLATION WOULD SOUND A BIT WEIRD HERE AND COULDN'T ADEQUATELY COVER THE IDIOM AND FOR THOSE WHO HAVE NOT YET GUESSED, THE WAY SHE IS SAYING IT SOUNDS MORE LIKE A PRAYER THAN A MERE "WISH".)
